AND DAMAGES PURSUANT
TO P.C. 496(C)

Antiques, Inc. d/b/a David Orgell, ordered, received, and accepted from Chronoswiss. The action also seeks damages for conversion, breach of

1 contract, and violation of Cal. Penal Code 496(c) related to watches
2 Chronoswiss delivered to the Defendant on consignment and which
3 Defendant has wrongfully, unlawfully and knowingly retained with 4 return or payment.

5 PARTIES

6 2. Plaintiff Chronoswiss, AG (“Chronoswiss”), a luxury watch
7 manufacturer, is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of 8 Switzerland. Chronoswiss now, and at all times relevant to this
9 Complaint, has and had its principal place of business at Loewenstrasse

14 jewelry, antiques and home décor. David Orgell now, and at all times
15 relevant to this Complaint, has and had its principal place of business
16 at 262 North Rodeo Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90201.

17 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

18 4. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action
19 based upon diversity of citizenship and amount in controversy pursuant 20 to 28 U.S.C. § 1332. Chronoswiss and David Orgell are citizens of 21 Switzerland and California respectively, and the amount in controversy
22 exceeds $75,000 exclusive of interest and costs.

23 5. Venue is proper in this district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §
24 1391(b)(1) & (2).

25 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

26 A. Watches Purchased by David Orgell

1 14. Following David Orgell's failure to pay the purchase price
2 when it was due, Chronoswiss made repeated demands for payment
3 orally and in writing.

4 15. In April 2016, Chronoswiss contacted David Orgell to notify
5 it that Chronoswiss had received no payment on Invoice 40153807, that 6 payment was overdue, and requesting that David Orgell make the 7 payment.

8 16. In June 2016, Chronoswiss contacted David Orgell to again
9 demand payment of the overdue amount of $78,387.50. Chronoswiss
10 provided David Orgell with a statement of account showing the balance
11 due and notified David Orgell that it would charge 7% interest because 12 the account was past due. The statement of account provided to David 13 Orgell is attached hereto as Exhibit 2.

14 17. Chronoswiss also demanded that David Orgell pay the 15 amount due, plus interest, in August and September, 2016.

16 18. David Orgell finally responded on September 7, 2016. In an
17 email from Korosh Soltani at David Orgell addressed to Karlo
18 Burgmayer at Chronoswiss, Mr. Soltani said, "I have spoken with my 19 father this week, and will be making a payment next week."

20 19. On September 12, 2016, Mr. Soltani spoke by phone to 21 Oliver Ebstein at Chronoswiss and promised to pay $10,000 by the end
22 of the week. But David Orgell did not make any payment the following 23 week.

24 20. On September 27, 2016, Chronoswiss again demanded
25 immediate and full payment of all amounts due.

1 21. As of the date of this Complaint, Chronoswiss has not
2 received any payment from David Orgell for the thirteen watches David
3 Orgell ordered and received in December 2015.

4 B. Watches David Orgell Ordered on Consignment

5 22. In December 2015, David Orgell also ordered and received
6 watches on consignment from Chronoswiss.

7 23. As shown on Invoice No. 40162366 (the “Consignment
8 Invoice”), attached hereto as Exhibit 3, David Orgell ordered six
9 watches on consignment with a total amount due to Chronoswiss, upon
10 sale of the watches, of $30,515.00.

11 24. The Consignment Invoice specifically identifies each style of 12 watch ordered (the “Article”), a description of each watch, the number of 13 watches of each style that David Orgell ordered, and the price for each
14 watch. The Consignment Invoice also specifies the unique Case
15 Number that appears on each watch ordered.

16 25. The Consignment Invoice states that “[t]he proprietary right
17 for delivered goods is kept by Chronoswiss AG until complete payment.”

18 26. The Consignment Invoice also states that the payment term
19 is “immediately,” meaning that David Orgell agreed to remit the 20 Consignment Invoice price for each watch sold immediately following
21 sale of the watch.

22 27. Chronoswiss shipped the six consignment watches to David
23 Orgell on December 7, 2015, and David Orgell received those watches
24 on December 11, 2015.

25 28. David Orgell did not object to any of the consignment
26 watches it received from Chronoswiss.

1 29. In September 2016, the Head of Accounting and Controller
2 of Chronoswiss sent a statement of account to Korosh Soltani at David
3 Orgell. The statement of account, attached hereto as Exhibit 4, 4 showed the amount owed of $78,387.50 on Invoice No. 40153807, the 5 amount owed on $30,515.00 on Invoice No. 40162366 for the 6 consignment watches, and the amount of interest then due of $3,820.95.
7 The total amount due on the statement of account was $112,723.45.

8 30. David Orgell did not object to the September 2016 account
9 statement.

10 31. In a phone call on October 27, 2016, Mr. Soltani at David
11 Orgell told Chronoswiss that he had sold two of the consignment
12 watches and would pay for them immediately.

13 32. Chronoswiss demanded that David Orgell return the 14 consignment watches. During the October 27, 2016 phone call, Mr.
15 Soltani agreed to Chronoswiss' demand that he return the remaining
16 consignment watches.

17 33. But David Orgell never paid Chronoswiss for the 18 consignment watches it sold and never returned the remaining
19 consignment watches. Chronoswiss made repeated demands for 20 payment on, or return of, the consignment watches, and David Orgell
21 ignored those demand.

22 34. Chronoswiss is informed and believes and thereon alleges,
23 that at or around the time David Orgell failed to return the 24 consignment watches and wrongfully retained the consignment watches
25 that its conduct amounted to theft of the consignment watches.

1 35. Notwithstanding Chronoswiss' demands, and the fact that
2 David Orgell has sold a number of the watches it received and accepted,
3 David Orgell refuses to pay the purchase price for any of the watches it
4 received.

5 36. As of February 15, 2017, David Orgell owes Chronoswiss
6 $78,387.50 for the purchase price of the thirteen watches on Invoice No.
7 401538071 plus $5,649.55 in interest.

8 37. As of February 15, 2017, David Orgell owes Chronoswiss
9 $30,515.00 for the price of the consignment watches on Invoice No.
10 40162366 plus $1,103.63 in interest.

11 CAUSES OF ACTION

12 COUNT I

13 Goods Sold and Delivered – Action for the Price

14 Cal. Comm. Code § 2709

15 38. Chronoswiss hereby repeats and re-alleges the allegations
16 contained in Paragraphs 1 through 37 as if fully set forth herein.

17 39. David Orgell ordered thirteen watches from Chronoswiss
18 and agreed to the purchase price of $78,387.50 for those watches.

19 40. Chronoswiss shipped to David Orgell the thirteen watches it
20 ordered, and David Orgell accepted the shipment of the watches.

21 41. David Orgell failed to pay the purchase price of the watches
22 when it came due.

23 42. David Orgell owes Chronoswiss $78,387.50 plus interest for 24 the watches it ordered, received, and accepted.

25 COUNT II

26 Conversion

1 61. Chronoswiss is informed and believes and thereon alleges,
2 that David Orgell has sold some of the watches it wrongfully withheld
3 from Chronoswiss and wrongfully retained the proceeds of those sales.

4 62. As a result of the foregoing, David Orgell is liable to 5 Chronoswiss for treble damages and an award of attorney's fees and 6 costs pursuant to California Penal Code section 496(c).

7 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

8 WHEREFORE, Chronoswiss prays for judgment against David
9 Orgell as follows:
